The Office Admin Manager job:

Being responsible for the daily running of our Cardiff City centre Head Office means you'll make sure our offices look and run well so they're ready for our staff, volunteers and visitors, supported by our office based Administrator.

Reporting into our HR function you'll support a lot of our general admin in HR, IT and Finance areas and keep the office environment and its operations running without a hitch. Naturally computer, processes and systems work is your forte and you're an all round people person willing to roll up your sleeves and work together with colleagues.

It means you're someone who handles any problems with common sense and works proactively in an organised way whilst also coming up with positive solutions and inspiring the people around you in your attitude and approach

You'll find it a varied Office Admin Manager job and a key role for all the work we do here.

That means doing things like preparing meeting rooms, overseeing post and deliveries, welcoming visitors and being on top of our stock and stationary.

You'll be the first contact for general office queries helping staff across all departments or liaising with the building's landlord. We're lucky to have volunteers supporting us in the office too so overseeing this will also be part of your role including helping with our new starter orientations.

So, it really is a job that will offer you the experience of contributing to the work of a cancer charity, allow your skills to shine and bring the opportunity of working with a great bunch of people.

The type of work or job roles you may have done to match the job requirements are: Office Manager, Admin Manager, Senior Admin Officer, Office Assistant Admin Manager, PA/Office Manager

Your key matching skills may be particularly strong in admin, processes, communication,, and you've experience of leading or supporting office management before.
